THEIR BANQUET LAST NIGHT

The Twelfth Annual Conclave Opened
Yesterday and Will Continue Today
—High Priest Officers Elected—

The colored Knights Templars continued their work yesterday at Masonic hall on Canal street with the twelfth annual convocation of the grand commandery, Knights Templars of Michigan and Ontario, with the following officers in command:

Right eminent grand commander, J. F. Richards, Detroit.

Grand deputy grand commander, J. C. Richards, Chatham.

Generalissimo, S. Robinson, Detroit.

Grand captain general, William Carter, Detroit.

Grand priest, J. C. Wilmore, Chatham.

Grand senior warden, E. N. Prince, Grand Rapids.

Grand junior warden, G. H. Hughes, Hamilton.

Grand treasurer, J. H. Cole, Detroit.

Grand recorder, S. H. Harris, Detroit.

Grand standard bearer, T. Jones, Jackson.

Grand sword bearer, L. Johnson, Chatham.

Grand warden, J. A. Bell, Grand Rapids.

Grand sentinel, C. M. Cooper, Chatham.

The commandery opened in the morning, but there was no business of importance transacted outside of receiving reports from subordinate commanderies.

Palatine commandery, Detroit, Ontario, was the only commandery instituted within the past year and no character were revoked. This order will be given again this morning at 8 o'clock and the election of officers will be one of the important features of the meeting.

The council of high priests elected the following officers: Grand high priest, H. D. Vener, Detroit; vice president, J. F. Scott, Chatham; second vice president, S. Robinson, Detroit; treasurer, J. H. Cole, Detroit; secretary, G. H. Hughes, Hamilton; herald, E. Hunter, Detroit; conductor, S. Harris, Detroit; chaplain, J. C. Wilmore, Chatham; Tyler, O. Hall, Jackson.

At 4 o'clock a grand street parade was given by the Knights Templars in full uniform through Canal and Monroe streets, headed by Smith's band.

The following commanderies were in line: Kinska Commandery, Detroit; Golden Rule Commandery, Jackson; Provincial Commandery, Chatham; Lenois Commandery, Hamilton; Palestine Commandery, Windsor. The procession formed at Masonic hall, and after going through the principal streets it halted in front of the city hall and was photographed. The line then proceeded to the Bridge Street house, where it disbanded.

Last night their local brethren tendered the visitors a banquet and ball in Lincoln hall, which was well attended by the colored society of the city.

In the absence of Mayor Stewart, who is in Chicago, Fred A. Maynard, by request of the mayor, delivered a pleasing address of welcome, which was responded to by Right Eminent Grand Commander J. F. Richards of Detroit, in behalf of the assembled guests.

The commandery expected to complete the regular business of the convocation today, and tomorrow morning the Order of the Eastern Star will go into session in Masonic hall, on Canal street.

Ball of the Season.

The ball which followed the banquet was the event of the season in colored circles. The knights were in full dress uniform and the costumes of the ladies were pretty and tasteful. The floor of the hall was covered with canvas and the guests danced with all the grace and enthusiasm of the season.

Was it Spite Work?

Lou Anderson's story of her arrest Saturday night.

Since the arrest of Lou Anderson and the inmates of her home at No. 12 Perry street by Sergeant McCarthy and a squad of patrolmen last Saturday night, it has been the subject of much comment among officers generally as to the motives of Superintendent Carr in causing the arrest and whether this moral was worth the extra length of Waterloo street and return to the immemorially overcrowded cells in other parts of the city. Shortly after the arrests were made Saturday night a reporter for THE HERALD asked Superintendent Carr his reason for "pulling" that particular house, and he replied in a somewhat "off-hand" manner, "A moral question as to whether he would continue making arrests of that class."

he elicited the equally evasive answer, "That it is not always best to tell our people in this business."

Several rumors have been current for the last few days as to what prompted the arrests, and as the superintendent, detectives and patrolmen were not inclined to explain, Lou Anderson was taken yesterday afternoon and gave her version of the affair substantially as follows:

"Last week Wednesday a well-dressed young man came to my house and offered to sell me a gold watch for $23. I told him I did not want to buy it and he insisted I should, perhaps the watch might have been stolen, but it is not an unusual thing for persons to come to my house to sell articles these hard times. I remember of having read that a watch had been stolen at the New Livingston about that time, and after the new had gone I was impressed more than ever that the watch was stolen property and that it might have been the one taken from the room at the New Livingston. On the following Friday Detective Smith and Darr came to my house and during our conversation I asked them if they had seen the watch. They said they had not, but they would look it up. I gave them a description of him and I did so very minutely. Darr said: 'This is a d—n pretty time to report the case. The man will get away and we will not be able to catch him. You may find yourself pulled when you least expect it.' There has been no disorderly conduct in my house for the last three or four weeks, and I have had no trouble with the patrolmen working in this vicinity with the exception of Patrolman Tatro. One night after 10 o'clock, and he rapped at the door, saying with an oath that he would arrest us if we did not keep quiet."

EX-MAYOR M'CRAY ILL.

His Physicians Give No Hope of His Recovery.

Ex-Mayor Gilbert Marshall McCray lies at the point of death in his home on Barclay street. One week ago Sunday he was taken with a severe attack of peritonitis and although the best physicians have attended him, his condition has constantly grown worse until there is no hope of his recovery.

Marshall McCray, as he was known among the old settlers, came to Grand Rapids at a very early day and for years was a leader in the democratic party. He was born in Ontario county, New York, in 1826, and in the winter of 1850, when he was 24 years old, he came to Michigan and settled in Grandville, where his father erected a foundry, machine shop and flouring mill. Mr. McCray learned the machine trade at an early age, and in 1843, when his father came to Grand Rapids, he came to an active part in the business. His father took Daniel Hall in as a partner, but in 1851 Mr. McCray, Sr., died, and Marshall took his place in the firm. In 1854 Mr. McCray sold out to Mr. Hall, and with his brother, Stewart B. McCray, erected a large machine shop on Erie street. After one or two removals Mr. McCray sold out to Lutell & Company. In 1858 he was elected mayor of the city on the democratic ticket. In 1877 he was married to Abbie O. Emery of Grandville. In 1881 he was acting foreman of the Valley City iron works, but for several years past he has acted as inspector of street improvements for the board of public works.

TEN PER CENT REDUCTION.

Salaries of C. & W. M. and D. L. & N. Employees Are Lopped Off.

Beginning yesterday the Chicago & West Michigan and Detroit, Lansing & Northern roads made a general reduction of 10 per cent in the salaries of all employees receiving $50 a month and over. The reasons assigned are the general falling off in the business of the road and the consequent necessity for retrenchment in the operating expenses. Grand Manager Charles M. Heald was not in the city yesterday; but George F. Weidman, his private secretary, said: "The reduction is not a permanent one, and we hope it will not be in force long. So soon as the business of the roads picks up the old rates will be restored. There has been a marked decrease in the receipts for the past three months, while the operating expenses have been as great as if the roads were making a profitable showing. The salaries of the men best able to stand it have been reduced, while those employees who earn only living wages will not be affected."

it combines great strength and toughness with lightness.

An all-steel machine made heavy enough to withstand the hard usage to which it is subjected is so heavy as to be a serious drawback to its universal use by young people. Again, the steel machine, without the care being taken to keep them clean and dry, soon become rusted and therefore easily broken; whereas a machine made of steel and wood will not suffer from exposure any more than a carriage.

A hickory framed and wheeled safety is not only more durable and lighter, but it is much more elastic, and the loss of the vibration and rigidity found in the all-steel machines makes these steel and hickory machines more comfortable for riding than any other machine made.

The hickory seat is suspended on our patented spiral spring, adjustable to varying heights and weights, and this, in combination with the hickory frame, makes the easiest possible riding machine. The sprocket wheel chain is perfectly adjusted, so as to utilize the full amount of power expended, and is made so strong as to be practically unbreakable. The patented head, found only on this machine, is a triumph of American ingenuity, and makes the wood and steel combination perfectly strong and firm. For these parts only the best imported workless steel tubing is used. The rubber cushioning tire is found on the wheel rim in such a manner that it is guaranteed not to become detached or loose. The wheel bearings are a brass collar so delicately adjusted to the steel shaft as to reduce the friction to a minimum, and render the usual ball bearings superfluous. The principle upon which they are made is the same as is used in constructing heavy machinery, where the greatest amount of work must be secured from the least expenditure of power. The entire machine is finished with a heavy coat of glossy black enamel, making a finely finished solid surface, which, when lightened up by its delicate striping and nicked head frame, makes a most beautiful machine, which for tasteful appearance as well as positive durability and general wearing qualities is absolutely unexcelled, if equaled, by any machine offered. The quality of materials used and the workmanship are fully guaranteed in every particular. Read THE HERALD'S add, to learn how to get a machine free.
